

Your Cosmic Influences - March 2008

♓ Pisces - this month it's all about YOU. So, for the first time for months, it's time to put on YOUR music, go see Your kind of movie, eat to YOUR favourite restaurant, probably vegetarian, and just practice what the other signs do more easily - and that's be more self-centered! Try it, you could turn it into a life-style change. The New Moon falling in your first house will emphasise your sensitivities which could tempt you to seriously look at some kind of charity work. Pisceans are wonderfully dreamy and idealistic - sometimes actually doing something can prove a little too much. Chatty Mercury and artistic Venus schmooze into Pisces halfway through your month and set up many opportunities for you to meet a new and social group. Sounds fun to me.

♈ Aries Aries people can often be as insecure as the rest of us and this month may just press those buttons in you. You may wonder why those around you aren't telling you what on earth is going on. The key is not to get pulled into conspiracy theories and become your own detective. This is a great month for research, investigative activities and confidentiality. You may be visiting friends in hospital - any new babies due? Your energy may be lower than usual and can be best used by sticking to routines and just getting on with whatever is in front of you. A good month for writers and creative artists and those who work behind the scenes. You could even start a new exercise program or a new food regimen.

♉ Taurus This month is all about social contacts and friendships. There will be new friends coming into your circle now, who may challenge your Taurean fixity and broaden your understanding of the world. Spring is just around the corner and many Taureans are already getting their seed trays ready for planting. It would be good to really let your hair down and grow some exotic, tropical flowers or cultivate some wild and wonderful new life style that will stand you in good stead for the future. You could take a risk this month and pursue your hopes and wishes with more confidence than usual. This could also be a good month to try for a raise in your income - if that sounds too scary, take a friend along with you for encouragement.

♊ Gemini This month is all about career. You may be wanting to change your job this month and have to argue your case. Parents may demand a lot of your attention this month. This really is the time for you to look at your own inner promptings about your life - a Geminian doing the same old same old can become very stale and flat. You need stimulation and there's plenty to be had - follow your need for new life. Your clever mind and wonderful quirky take on life is an asset to any boss who employs you. You just need to let them know this! There may also be a new opening at work that could just suit your multifarious talents down to the ground. You have to do the talking though - but that's no big deal for a Gemini.

♋ Cancer This could be the month for making wedding plans and long distance negotiations. Cancerians love to travel - maybe you could plan a real adventure for later in the year - like a safari or white water rafting in the Rockies, rather than just going to Spain. Your beliefs may be challenged this month due to someone from afar coming into your life and arguing for a completely different world view. As a result you could look back in years to come and see that this month was the beginning of whole new way of life - if not physically, then certainly in your attitudes. Your partner's family may demand some of your nurturing skills this month and, for those of an appropriate age, there may be a grandchild unexpectedly on the way!

 Leo This month the major emphasis is on marital or partnership finances and joint financial dealing with others. This is the time for generous Leo to pull your horns in and keep some of your money for yourself. Yes, you have to pay your taxes and mortgage - however, you need to watch your credit rating right now. If you need to go on a debt repayment scheme so be it - do it and then stop worrying about money - it gets in the way of your innate creativity and love of life. If your partner is out of work, they may find a job which would ease the pressure on you. A good month to embark on a research programme or to even go into therapy and discover even more hidden talent!

 Virgo This is the month for committing to a new partnership - either personal or business. You will find that whatever you ask for will be granted. Of course, your tendency to worry could still keep you awake at night - but please get over it! This is a good and exciting period for Virgos. Yes, there will be hard work involved, but when has that bothered you? The emphasis this month is also on your most intimate relationships - by giving them the freedom that they need, you will have the freedom you need to get things done. Your desire for perfection in every aspect of your life will be challenged this month by the new people coming into your zone. That'll be fun! You may have to give attention to a child's education needs.

 Libra The emphasis is on efficiency and service of others at work - not particularly favourite subjects for Libra. You love others to serve you - however, the shoe is on the other foot this month. You may have to look into all your dietary habits and your physical well-being in general - start an exercise plan, for example - in readiness for the summer when you will want to look your best. You may have to employ a repairman to do some general work around the house. You may also have to take a pet to the vet for treatment. These are all little things that demand your attention. In fact, this month is all about the small details and chores of your everyday existence - buy yourself some chocolates and wait for April!

 Scorpio This is a pleasurable month for Scorpio. You can take time to enjoy your hobbies and pleasurable pursuits. Your interests may lie with young people and children - and there may be even a love affair in the offing if your birth chart indicates this. Whether it's romance or just friendships, you will be having lots of fun. Accept all invitations, even if they seem mundane - you could be pleasantly surprised at what a good time you have. Do be careful with investments this month as there could be a wild card hidden in someone else's sleeve that could turn the tables for you. Your natural Scorpio suspicions could come in very handy here and may save you a lot of money! A child may suddenly decide to leave home or boomerang back if they've already done so.

✠ Sagittarius This month the emphasis is on your home and immediate domestic situation. You may have to seriously think about extending your home to include a granny flat, for example. In any case a parent may need your focus and practical assistance during this month. You may decide to work more from home than in the past and will need to build an office to suit your new needs. In fact, it could present an opportunity to move house altogether - into something much bigger or out of the city into a more rural setting - much more suited to your Sagittarian love of space and open country. This is the month when old issues that are still pending may resolve themselves without any input from you at all. Effortless transformation.

♏ Capricorn This is the time when the major planetary influence on your life is Pluto which has entered your sign for the next few months - for more information, please see my article on Pluto in Capricorn elsewhere on this blog. On the more mundane level, the influences are on your immediate surroundings, like neighbours, siblings and cousins - any or all of which can demand attention from you. There may be more than usual paperwork to be sorted through, which in your dependable Capricorn fashion you will deal with dutifully and to good end. This is the month for exchanging ideas, teaching and public speaking in your locality. It's favourable for written and driving tests. You could buy a new car - something big enough to hold everyone on family outings. You may join a school run plan which could ease your regular driving commitments somewhat - as this is such a busy month you need to protect your time rather than scatter it away from the new course or project you want to develop.

♒ Aquarius This is the month when your personal finances demand your attention. You may have had your eye on an item in the shops and find that you can afford it this month, or find that you have less in your bank account than you had previously thought. Your personal values may go through a complete shift this month - and you may decide to have a complete blitz on all your belongings, giving them to some worthy cause or another. You may realise that you value people and the higher values such as world peace or saving the starving - this may suit your present mindset more than spending your money in the shops. As you are pulling your horns in right now, you may need to sit on a partner who wishes to take out a mortgage or other large loan.

The Signs and the Four Elements

The Red signs are Fire Signs      The Green Signs are Earth Signs
The Yellow Signs are Air Signs      The Blue Signs are Water Signs

*Fire and Air are lively, communicative and extroverted.
Earth and Water signs are inert, reflective and introverted.*
